

How to use LeetCode effectively for Coding Interviews?

Tip #1

---

Solving problems in Quantity won't give you Quality preparation.

Follow a roadmap of
Quality problems -
100 Days to GAMAM

Cracking the GAMAM Technical Interviews

Buy Now

Tip #2

---

Solve LeetCode
problems daily
without breaking Consistency. Make it
1-2 hours per day.
Remember the motto -
"you break, you fail"

Tip #3

Tip #5

---

If you are a beginner in coding always try to solve EASY level problems first.

Tip #6

Practice Questions from the topics in which you are weak and need confidence in logic building. (Tags filter)

Tip #7

---

After Choosing any difficulty level, it's better to sort the problems by "Acceptance". This increases chances of successful attempt.

Tip #8

---

If you are a beginner,
Choose a
topic/easy-level
questions & solve
atleast 25 problems
in that topic to reach
its Medium level

Tip #9

---

If you are not a beginner, Choose a topic/medium-level questions & solve at least 30 problems in that topic to reach its Hard level

Tip #10

---

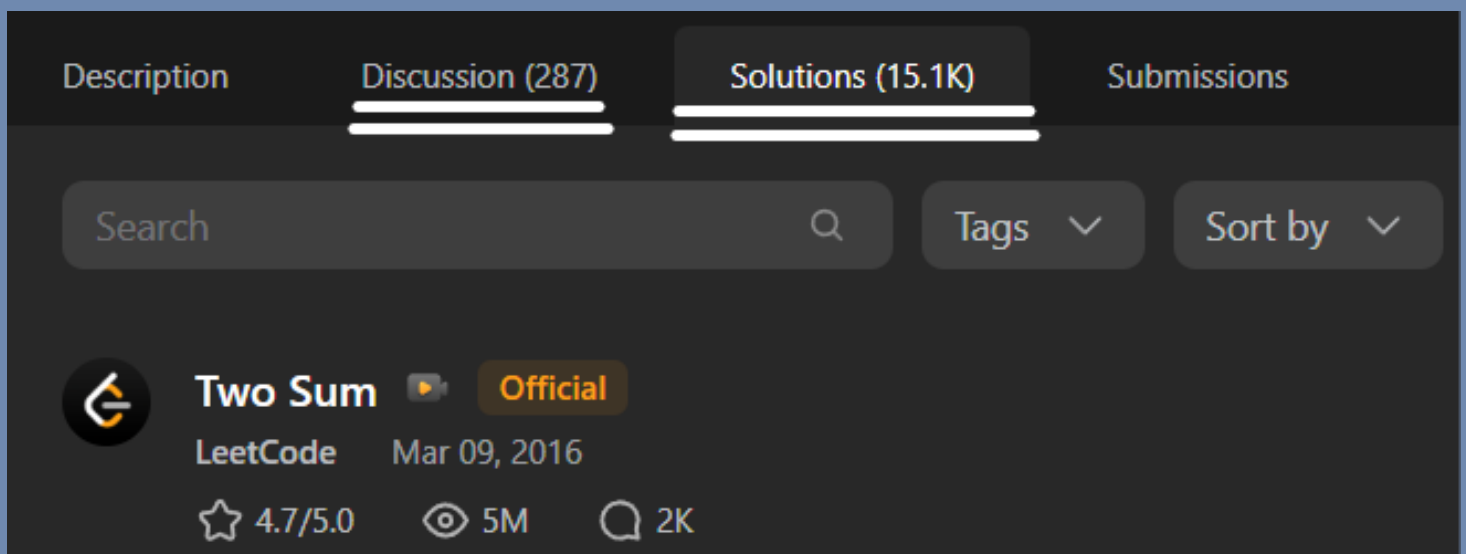

Always check out
multiple ways of
solving the same
problem.
(Solutions Tab)

Tip #11

---

Always look for Time & Space Complexity after solving the problem in the (Discussions & Solutions Tab)

Tip #12

---

Target to solve
Quality problems
(Tip #1) with at least -
100 EASY LEVEL
250 MEDIUM LEVEL
75 HARD LEVEL

Tip #13

---

Don't spend more than 45-60 minutes, if you are stuck in a problem. After above time limit -

1. Check Hints

2. Check Solutions

Tip #14

---

If you are checking out the Solutions of others.

Make sure you -
Understand the solution, Write down
the solution in a paper,
Code it in LeetCode
editor & Dry run

Tip #15

If you are checking out the Solutions of others. Make sure you write the notes around what you missed under Notes Tab

Tip #16

---

The notes you write in the Notes Tab is very useful and LeetCode provides a way (Notebook) to Print it for personal use and revision.

Tip #17

Revision is a must. If you are checking out the Solutions of others. Make sure you are adding that problem in a Revision List (You can create custom list LeetCode editor)

Tip #18

---

Revision is a must. As per Ebbinghaus's Forgetting Curve, keep revising the problems on which you faced difficulty often. It should be revised in span of 1st day, 7th day, 30th day.

Tip #19

---

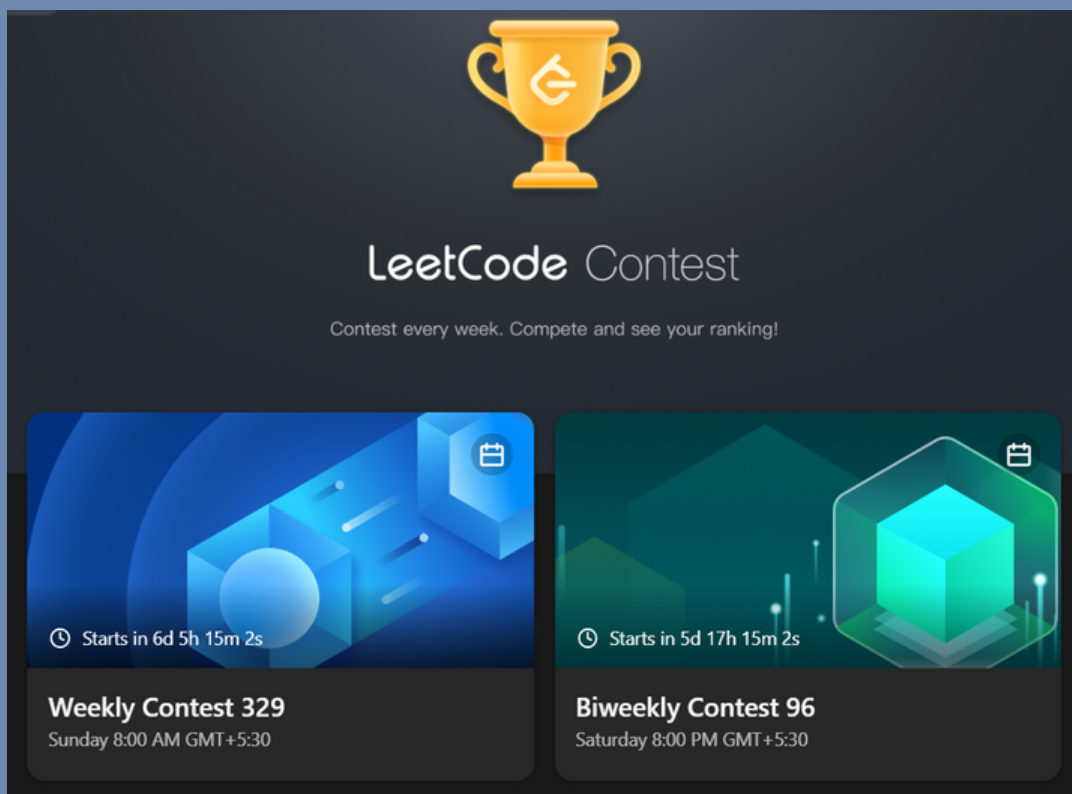

Once you are comfortable with LeetCode practice and have solved over 200+ problems, try to solve Daily LeetCode challenge

Tip #20

---

Once you have solved over 150+ problems, try to participate in
Weekly/Biweekly Contest.
(Contest Tab)

Tip #21

---

Always keep track of your progress by creating a new session (Session Management Tab)

Session Management

Instructions

To make a fresh start, create a new session and click on the new session to activate it.

Your progress will be tracked separately in the newly created session and you can start another practicing round.

Tip #22
